

Feminist Studies Course Offerings - Fall 2014

Courses may be added as they become available

Concentrations listed at left margin:

1 = Culture, Power, and Representation. Focuses on representation as both political and aesthetic.

Situates the study of everyday life practices and cultural forms in the context of larger political and historical relations.

2 = Law, Politics, and Social Change. Examines social change through legal, economic, and political processes. Emphasizes movements for social justice and struggles over gender, race, class, and sexuality.

3 = Science, Technology, and Medicine. Explores how science, technology, and medicine reshape relations of power and knowledge. Highlights the centrality of ethical concerns and values in the scientific production of gendered, raced, and sexed bodies. (Note: students may petition to take one lower division or upper-division course in the sciences for the concentration with the approval of their faculty advisor).

4 = Sexuality Studies. Examines institutions and power relations through the category of sexuality.

Explores bodies and practices across geographical and cultural borders.

Key: C = Core, G = Graduate

A. Courses acceptable for Feminist Studies credit.

C	Feminist Stu	1	Feminist Studies: An Introduction	A. Arondekar
2,4	Feminist Stu	115	Gender, Sexuality, and Transnation Migration	F. Amaya Schaeffer
1,2	Feminist Stu	132	Gender & Postcoloniality	M. Murty
1,2	Feminist Stu	145	Racial and Gender Formations in the U.S.	F. Amaya Schaeffer
	Feminist Stu	194H*	Michel Foucault: An Introduction	A. Arondekar
	Feminist Stu	194K*	Black Diaspora	G. Dent
G	Feminist Stu	200	Feminist Theories	N. Atanasoski
2,3	LALS	175	Migration, Gender, and Health	P. Zavella
1,3,4	LTMO	145J	Cultural Theory & Practice: Gender and Fiction	S. Magnone
1,2,4	Psychology	140H	Sexual Identity and Society	P. Hammack
1,2	Sociology	111	Family and Society	W. Martyna
1,2	Sociology	144	Sociology of Women	C. West
2,4	Sociology	157	Sexualities and Society	R. Bryant-Anderson
2	Sociology	176	Women and Work	M. Kohli

B. Courses acceptable for credit by petition and special arrangement by the instructor.

2	Anthropology	110T	Motherhood	M. Moodie
2,3	Anthropology	134	Introduction to Medical Anthropology	N. Chen
2,3	Community Stu	163	Healthcare Inequalities	A. Steiner
2	History	115B	U.S. Labor History: 1919 to the Present	D. Frank
2	History	140C	Revolutionary China	E. Honig
1	LTEL	180V	The Vampire in Literature & Popular Culture	K. Lau
1,2	Sociology	145	Sociology of Men	W. Martyna
2,3	Sociology	152	Body and Society	F. Guerra

C. Courses acceptable to satisfy the 10-40 level requirement.

C	Feminist Stu	14	Popular Culture in South Asia	M. Murty
C	Feminist Stu	20	Feminism and Social Justice	B. Aptheker
C	FMST/Music	80S	Women and Music	T. Merchant

* A senior seminar. May be used to fulfill the Feminist Studies senior exit requirement.

Last Updated: 11/05/14 mw

Feminist Studies Course Offerings - Winter 2015

Courses may be added as they become available

Concentrations listed at left margin:

1 = Culture, Power, and Representation. Focuses on representation as both political and aesthetic.

Situates the study of everyday life practices and cultural forms in the context of larger political and historical relations.

2 = Law, Politics, and Social Change. Examines social change through legal, economic, and political processes. Emphasizes movements for social justice and struggles over gender, race, class, and sexuality.

3 = Science, Technology, and Medicine. Explores how science, technology, and medicine reshape relations of power and knowledge. Highlights the centrality of ethical concerns and values in the scientific production of gendered, raced, and sexed bodies. (Note: students may petition to take one lower division or upper-division course in the sciences for the concentration with the approval of their faculty advisor).

4 = Sexuality Studies. Examines institutions and power relations through the category of sexuality.

Explores bodies and practices across geographical and cultural borders.

Key: C = Core, G = Graduate

A. Courses acceptable for Feminist Studies credit.

C	Feminist Stu	100	Feminist Theories	A. Arondekar
1	Feminist Stu	126	Images, Power& Pol: Visual/Textual Analysis	N. Atanasoski
	Feminist Stu	194F*	Chicana/Latina Cultural Production	F. A. Schaeffer
	Feminist Stu	1940*	Politics of Gender and Human Rights	N. Atanasoski
G	Feminist Stu	201	Topics in Feminist Methodologies	F. A. Schaeffer
G	Feminist Stu	232	Topics in Postcolonial Studies	A. Arondekar
G	Feminist Stu	240	Culture and Politics of Human Rights	R-L. Fregoso
2	CRES	100	Comparative Theories of Race and Ethnicity	Staff
1	Film	132C	Gender and Global Cinema	Y. Wang
2	History	113C	Women and American Religious Culture	M. Westerkamp
2	History	131	Women in Colonial Latin America	M.E. Diaz
1,2,4	History	185H	Women, Gender, and Jewish Modernity	N. Deutsch
1,2	LALS	144	Mexicana/Chicana Histories	G. Arrendondo
1,2,4	Oakes	150	Gays and Lesbians in the U.S.	Staff
2	Politics	103	Feminist Interventions	V. Seth
1,2	Sociology	149	Sex and Gender	C. West

B. Courses acceptable for credit by petition and special arrangement by the instructor.

1,2	Anthropology	1100	Postcolonial Britain and France	M. Fernando
2	History	115C	Learning from the Long U.S. Great Depression	D. Frank
2	Politics	105B	Early Modern Political Thought	V. Seth
2,3	Psychology	140T	Psychology of Trauma	E. Zurbriggen
2	Psychology	153	Psychology of Poverty and Social Class	H. Bullock
2	Sociology	142	Language and Social Interaction	C. West

C. Courses acceptable to satisfy the 10-40 level requirement.

C	Feminist Stu	10	Feminisms of/and the Global South	A. Arondekar
C	Feminist Stu	41	Trans Gender Bodies	M. Ochoa
C	CRES	10	Critical Race & Ethnic Studies	Staff
C	LALS	50	Transnational FemOrganizing in Americas	S.M. Falcon

* A senior seminar. May be used to fulfill the Feminist Studies senior exit requirement.

Last Updated: 11/05/14 mw

Feminist Studies Course Offerings - Spring 2015

D R A F T - Courses may be added as they become available

Concentrations listed at left margin:

1 = Culture, Power, and Representation. Focuses on representation as both political and aesthetic.

Situates the study of everyday life practices and cultural forms in the context of larger political and historical relations.

2 = Law, Politics, and Social Change. Examines social change through legal, economic, and political processes. Emphasizes movements for social justice and struggles over gender, race, class, and sexuality.

3 = Science, Technology, and Medicine. Explores how science, technology, and medicine reshape relations of power and knowledge. Highlights the centrality of ethical concerns and values in the scientific production of gendered, raced, and sexed bodies. (Note: students may petition to take one lower division or upper-division course in the sciences for the concentration with the approval of their faculty advisor).

4 = Sexuality Studies. Examines institutions and power relations through the category of sexuality. Explores bodies and practices across geographical and cultural borders.

Key: C = Core, G = Graduate

A. Courses acceptable for Feminist Studies credit.

1	Feminist Stu	123	Feminism and Cultural Production	J. Gonzalez/V. Cooppan
1,2	Feminist Stu	189	Advanced Feminist Theory	M. Murty
	Feminist Stu	194I*	Feminist Oral History and Memoir	B. Aptheker
G	Feminist Stu	202	Disciplining Knowledge/Graduate Research	M. Ochoa
G	Feminist Stu	214	Feminist Science Studies	K. Barad
G	Feminist Stu	260	Black Feminist Reconstruction	B. Aptheker
G	Feminist Stu	268A	Science & Justice: Experiments in Collaboration	J. Reardon
1,2	Anthropology	131	Women in Cross-Cultural Perspective	Staff
2	History	140E	Women in China's Long 20 th Century	G. Hershatter
1	LTMO	145B	The Other Woman: Muse, Monster, Machine	K. Lau
1,2	Psychology	140G	Women's Lives in Context	S. Grabe
1,2	Psychology	140Q	Social Psychology of Sex and Gender	C. Leaper

B. Courses acceptable for credit by petition and special arrangement by the instructor.

2	Anthropology	194X [^]	Women in Politics: Third World Perspective	A. Pandey
1	HAVC	170	Art of the Body in Oceania	S. Kamehiro
2	Psychology	149	Community Psych: Transforming Communities	R. Langhout
2,3	Sociology	132	Social Science and Technology	J. Reardon
2,3	Sociology	150	Sociology of Death and Dying	W. Martyna
1	THEA	161T	Women in Theater	K. Brandt

C. Courses acceptable to satisfy the 10-40 level requirement.

C	Feminist Stu	16	Media Histories	M. Murty
C	Feminist Stu	30	Feminism and Science	K. Barad
C	Biology	80A	Female Physiology and Gynecology	M. Zavanelli
C	HAVC	31	The Nude in the Western Tradition	D. Hunter
C	LIT	80E	Animals and Literature	C. Freccero

* A senior seminar. May be used to fulfill the Feminist Studies senior exit and DC requirement.

[^] A senior seminar. Can be used only to fulfill a Feminist Studies concentration or elective requirement.

Last Updated: 11/05/14 mw

